

Highlights of Rhode Island's Participation in the Regional Student Program (RSP): 2021-22

The RSP provides savings on out-of-state tuition to Rhode Island residents enrolled in approved degree programs at public campuses in the five other New England states and provides a reciprocal benefit to eligible New England residents enrolled at Rhode Island's public higher education institutions (HEIs). Rhode Island residents are eligible for more than 1,500 undergraduate and graduate degree programs through the RSP, also known as Tuition Break.

Source: NEBHE Regional Student Program (RSP) Tuition Break Annual Report 2021-22. NOTES REGARDING DATA: Tuition savings equals the savings on out-of-state tuition that Connecticut residents receive because of the RSP. Revenue figures represent the tuition paid by incoming RSP students. All tuition revenue and savings figures are estimates based on annual tuition rates and full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment for the fall 2021 semester. Average annual tuition savings is based on full-time enrollment. Refer to Figures in the report for detailed breakdowns on enrollment and revenue by institution and state.
