New England Board of Higher Education's Tuition Break for New England Residents

Regional Student Program 2009-10 Annual Report

Executive Summary

In the midst of this recession, enrollment in the New England Board of Higher Education's Tuition Break, the Regional Student Program (RSP), rose to a record high of 8,777 students this academic year.

As more families find themselves hard-pressed to pay bills of all kinds including college tuition, it comes as no surprise that a program which helps make college more affordable is attracting and enrolling more students.

Now in its 53rd year, the RSP Tuition Break saved New England residents an estimated $51 million in tuition payments this year alone. For each participating RSP student, that translated to an average $7,000 discount on this year's tuition bill.

Because of the RSP, New England residents are eligible for a tuition discount when they enroll at out-of-state public colleges and universities in the six-state region and pursue approved degree programs not offered by their home-state public institutions. In some cases, eligibility also extends to students whose home is closer to an out-of-state college than to an in-state college.

The region's public colleges and universities received more than $52 million in tuition revenue from the RSP students enrolled this year. The RSP helps participating campuses attract and retain out-of-state New England students who might have attended college elsewhere if the RSP tuition discount were not available.

Over the past half century, the RSP has provided New England residents with discounts on more than 233,000 annual college tuition bills, with the total savings estimated to be well over $1 billion in current dollars. The RSP has also helped the individual New England states and their public higher education institutions avoid countless billions of dollars in capital and operating expenditures by eliminating the need to duplicate academic programs offered by public colleges and universities in other New England states.

NEBHE established the RSP in 1957-58 to fulfill the purposes of the congressionally authorized New England Higher Education Compact – expanding educational opportunities for New England residents and sharing higher education resources.

The RSP provides New Englanders with more affordable access to about 700 degree programs. Many RSP programs are in specialized and high-demand fields of study, such as pharmacy, dental medicine, biomedical engineering, aquaculture, design, communications and media, criminal justice and law, meteorology, health care management, Chinese, Japanese and physiology and neurobiology. In 2009, 18 new RSP programs were approved, including an associate degree in Wind Power Technology; bachelor's degree programs in Asian Studies, Diversified Agriculture, Ecogastronomy and Supply Chain Management; and an MFA in Intermedia Arts.

This report provides data on RSP enrollment and tuition revenue and savings for the 2009-10 academic year, as well as historical data. NEBHE thanks the campus officials who provided detailed fall 2009 RSP enrollment information, as well as the RSP representatives and administrators who oversee the ongoing participation of their institutions in the RSP.

NEBHE extends appreciation to the state legislators and governors of the six New England states for their steadfast commitment to regional collaboration. In this difficult economic climate, when financing a college education is an even more pressing concern, NEBHE's Tuition Break program provides much-needed tuition relief to New England students and families and fosters cost-efficient resource-sharing among the six New England states.

Specifically, the FTE was determined by adding 40 percent of an institution's reported part-time enrollment to its reported full-time enrollment [(Part-time Enrollment x 0.4) + Full-time Enrollment = FTE]. Tuition savings equals the discount on out-of-state tuition that Connecticut residents receive because of the RSP. Revenue figures represent the tuition paid by incoming RSP students. Summary of 2009-10 Regional Student Program (RSP) Data

2009-10 RSP Tuition Savings and Revenue

During the 2009-10 academic year, the RSP provided New England residents an estimated total of nearly $51 million in savings on their 2009-10 tuition bills. The average annual tuition break for a full-time RSP student was about $7,000. Total RSP tuition savings increased 7 percent over last year. The RSP participating institutions received more than $52 million in tuition revenue from RSP students in 2009-10, up 12 percent over last year (See Figs. 1 and 2).

The majority of RSP institutions set their RSP tuition at 150 percent of their in-state rate. The maximum RSP tuition rate approved by NEBHE is 175 percent of the in-state rate (effective Fall 2006). The following institutions charge the 175 percent rate: Keene State College, Massachusetts Maritime Academy, Plymouth State University, University of Connecticut, University of Massachusetts Amherst, University of Massachusetts Worcester School of Nursing, University of New Hampshire (Undergraduate), University of New Hampshire at Manchester, University of Rhode Island (Undergraduate), University of Vermont.

2009-10 RSP Enrollment Data

Total RSP enrollment this academic year was a headcount of 8,777, reflecting a 7 percent increase over last year. Enrollment increases by institution type and degree level broke down as follows: Graduate enrollment was up by 19 percent; undergraduate four-year (bachelor's and associate) was up by 8 percent; and community college enrollment increased by more than 3 percent.

The majority of RSP students were undergraduate students: 50 percent were enrolled at four-year public colleges and universities, and 40 percent were enrolled at community and technical colleges. Ten percent of RSP students were graduate students.

For detailed enrollment by state, type of institution and institution, see Figs. 1 through 9. Enrollment data for individual degree programs by institution are provided in the Appendix, available online at www.nebhe.org.

History of RSP Participation

Since the first year of RSP enrollment in 1957, the RSP has provided New England students discounts on more than 233,000 annual tuition bills (See Fig. 11). The RSP has afforded participating students a total of more than $1 billion in tuition savings, when calculated in current dollars.

Data Source

The New England Board of Higher Education surveyed all of the RSP participating institutions for Fall 2009 enrollment data and student characteristics. NEBHE calculated annual 2009-10 enrollment and tuition savings and revenue data, based on fall 2009 enrollment data and annual tuition rates.

Fig. 1. RSP Tuition Savings and Revenue and Enrollment by State: 2009-10

NEBHE's Regional Student Program (RSP) provided New England residents an estimated total of $51 million in savings on their 2009-10 tuition bills. The average annual tuition discount for a full-time RSP student was about $7,000. The RSP participating institutions received an estimated total of $52.4 million in tuition revenue from RSP students.

NOTES: The RSP tuition savings figures represent the discount on out-of-state tuition that eligible New England residents received because of their participation in the RSP.

Revenue figures represent the total tuition paid by RSP students to participating institutions.

Net revenue equals the RSP surcharge above the in-state rate.

All tuition revenue and savings figures are estimates based on annual tuition rates and FTE figures for the fall 2009 semester. The full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollments were calculated using a modified version of the U.S. Department of Education's methodology. Specifically, the FTE was determined by adding 40 percent of an institution's reported part-time enrollment to its reported full-time enrollment [(Part-time Enrollment x 0.4) + Full-time Enrollment = FTE]. Total numbers may vary slightly due to rounding.

NOTES: All tuition revenue and savings figures are estimates based on annual tuition rates and FTE figures for the fall 2009 semester. The full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollments were calculated using a modified version of the U.S. Department of Education's methodology. Specifically, the FTE was determined by adding 40 percent of an institution's reported part-time enrollment to its reported full-time enrollment $[(\text{Part-time Enrollment} \times 0.4) + \text{Full-time Enrollment} = \text{FTE}]$. Total numbers may vary slightly due to rounding.

NOTES: The following institutions reported no RSP enrollment in 2009-10:

Connecticut: Capital, Gateway, Manchester, Middlesex, Naugatuck, Norwalk & Tunxis Community Colleges.

Maine: York County Community College; University of Maine at Presque Isle.

Massachusetts: Cape Cod, Massasoit & Roxbury Community Colleges.
